THE KEY

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

Alfred Tennyson

FOREWORD ★

All in a golden afternoon
Full leisurely we glide;
For both our oars, with little skill
By little arms are plied,
While little hands make vain pretense
Our wanderings to guide.

A tale begun in other days
When summer suns were glowing,
A simple chime, that served to time
The rhythm of our rowing
Whose echoes live in memory yet,
Though envious years would say, "Forget!"

Imperious Prima flashes forth
Her edict, "to begin it";
In gentler tones Secunda hopes
"There will be nonsense in it!"
While Tertia interrupts the tale
Not more than once a minute.

Lewis Carroll

IN MEMORIAM

"O may I join the choir invisible
Of those immortal dead who live again
In minds made better by their presence."

GEORGE ELIOT

As we close our senior section, we are mindful of those members of Franklin High School who, although absent from our school, will be ever present in our memories.

The loss of many of our finest young people is a bitter inevitability. This year we have also lost three outstandig members of our faculty, Mr. Arthur Bates, Mr. Elmer Koster, and Mr. William Maxion. Their influence has enriched our lives; their devotion to their work has made our shool and our world better. To them and to the young men who have given and will give their lives in the service of our country we pledge our loyalty to the ideals which they cherished.

THE CHESS CLUB

SITTING: Phillips, La Roche, Wagner, Wickman, Metelsky, Mr. Maurer.
STANDING: Rogan, M., Rogan, A., Fink, Deutsch, Maier, Spindleman, Onusseit.

"The chess-board is the world, the pieces are the phenomena of the universe, the rules of the game are what we call the laws of Nature. The player on the other side is hidden from us. We know that his play is always fair, just, and patient. But also we know, to our cost, that he never overlooks a mistake, or makes the smallest allowance for ignorance."

T. HUXLEY

Kid Democracy delivers a knockout blow in the first round.

"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

A filled assembly hall heartily applauded the fun-packed comedy, "Young April," presented on Friday evening, December third, by the senior class. Realistic characterizations by a splendid cast and skillful directing by Erle Remington brought to the spectators a familiar picture of young romance. A success in every way, the presentation of "Young April" proved to be a much talked of occasion among Franklinites.

To Señor "De Fran" the class is indebted for the skill and inspiration with which he has illumined their path along the South American way.

LAST WORD

"Look back on time with kindly eyes,
He doubtless did his best.
How softly sinks his trembling sun
In human nature's west."

EMILY DICKINSON

And so we come with reluctance to this last page. Time, we realize, can be wasted or spent, but it can never be held, except in memory. This record of our years at Franklin is our one sure way of being able, like Alice, to step, not through the looking glass, but through the hour glass to the first part of our "tale begun in other days."

In 1940 we were freshmen; in June, as seniors, we shall say good-bye. As we reach the last act of our four act play, the excitement of graduation and the anticipation of new adventures are tempered by the sense that we are leaving one of the happiest periods of our lives. Not even the promise of bigger and better parts on the world's stage could make us entirely happy at having to relinquish the Franklin stage to other seniors.

The record is written. Our play is over. The curtain falls forever on our stage. . . . The vision fades but never dies.

To a very nice looking boy:
Your really handsome in your ways; your a very nice dresser and that irish cut really gets my eyes. Your full of the devil and oh! what a devil. Bad I could go for someone like you. Say don't take me serious, your just a nice kid to know.

Peg Joswick.

Rationing and the scarcity of some food products demand more skilled attention to the preparation of lunches, both for war workers and school students.

Both need wholesome, nutritious food if they are to do their best, and keep fit and healthful.
